Profile:

Following on from my previous experience as a deckhand, I am seeking a new challenge on a sailing or motor yacht to further develop my skills and comprehension on deck.

I am a friendly, confident, positive and easy going individual. I enjoy meeting new people from around the world and I am told I am easy to get along with and have a great sense of humour. Because of this I have been able to develop long lasting relationships with the crew on my previous boats. I am self-motivated and constantly seeking new ways to develop my skills and knowledge. I traveled the world for over a year where I worked in Australia in different kinds of work and learnt to adapt quickly to different work and social settings.
