Profile

As a place of excellence, a yacht is always unique and deserves our full attention. She must be led by a crew whose skills are entirely dedicated to the success of the voyage. From a young age I have been motivated by the exercise to arrive in the lead on the windward mark. I quickly understood that to achieve the best performance, the combination between machine and crew was the heart of succes at sea. Whether for an owner or for a company, in the context of fishing, trade and mainly charter; above all I understood that maritime work, whatever it is, his guided by respect; Respect for the crew who makes it possible on a daily basis. Respect for the yacht. Deference and loyalty to the promoters of the maritime expedition. These are the values, my skills and my ability to adapt that I intend to put at your disposal on board.
